All areas of the Villa are equipped with alarm pull stations, which are monitored 24 hours a day. Although we take maximum precautions with our fire policy, it is important to be prepared for such incidents. In the event of an outbreak, the fire alarm will sound off, ensuring you are well notified.

If You Are Trapped in Your Room

・ Phuket Old Town: Enjoy the experience of walking around the city of Phuket and witness the beautiful "Chino-Portuguese Architecture" of the city. In the past, Phuket was influenced by European travelers and merchants who came to port and traded with the locals. On Sundays, there is a street market called "Lad Yai" where many street food vendors come together for you to enjoy.

・ Visit Thai Temples & Big Buddha: There are many beautiful Thai temples located around the island of Phuket. Experience first-hand one of the most respected Thai temples in Phuket, Wat Chalong, or formally named Wat Chaiyathararam. Visit the Big Buddha Phuket or Ming Mongkol Buddha and witness the beautiful view and magnificent Buddha statue located on the peak of Mount Nagakerd.

In Phuket Town, there are many interesting local nightclubs and great mixology bars, which are excellent for experiencing the local scene.

Thai Customs & Traditions

・Thai people greet one another with the action of "Wai" along with the word "Sawaddee," which means "Hi" or "Hello." The "Wai" is an action of bringing your palms together with your thumbs toward your chest and your hands pointed upward.

・ The ending of a sentence in Thai usually ends with "Krub" or "Ka" to indicate politeness to the listener. The word "Krub" is used by gentlemen, and "Ka" is used by ladies.

・Thai people are called by their first name; the title "Khun" is used for addressing adults.

・The most respected part of the body for Thais is their head. Avoid touching their head unless the person allows it you are going to touch.

・Monks should be treated with full respect. Women are not allowed to touch or hand anything directly to a monk.

・ Please ask for permission before taking their pictures.

・ One should always avoid placing one's feet on the table while sitting and never use a foot to point at things or touch any part of the body of anyone.

・Remember to drive on the left and be aware of people, motorcycles, bicycles, and animals along the roadside.

・Please dress modestly in public areas and while in town. When visiting Thai temples, please dress appropriately by wearing long pants or skirts, and women should wear shirts that do not display body parts.
